There is a place where superheroes use their powers every single day. 🦸‍♀️🦸‍♀️

Their mission is not to fight monsters or conquer distant galaxies, but something far more important. They use their strength, courage and compassion to help children who may not yet see their own worth become rockstars—ready to stand tall and headline their own show. Every day these superheroes fight a different kind of battle. They challenge stigma. They break down stereotypes. They show the world that our rock band is full of superstars waiting to shine. And slowly, something incredible happens. The "bad guys"—the doubters, the critics, the people who once misunderstood—become allies. They become the backing singers: the people who educate, advise, advocate and protect.

Each superhero has their own unique power. Amy is cool, fair and dependable—the trusty sidekick who helps guide the mission forward. April is motivational and honest—your own personal cheerleader who reminds you that you can do more than you ever believed. Amanda's power is patience. Her empathy, understanding and calm strength are gifts that steady everyone around her. Sourav is principled and kind. His warmth and infectious smile are powers that lift others higher. Lauren is resilient and determined. She listens deeply and equips you with the courage and ammunition to step boldly into the unknown. Jess is courageous and outspoken, never afraid to say what needs to be said. Denise offers perspective and a listening ear when it matters most.

Joanne is the quiet guardian of the cottage. When the rockstars feel tired, when the battles feel heavy, and when faith in the superheroes begins to waver, Joanne is there—steady and reassuring—keeping the heart of the cottage beating and reminding everyone that this is still a place of safety, warmth and belonging. And beside her is Faye, the keeper of the animals. The animals of the cottage are magical creatures, offering an unspoken calm, friendship and understanding. They listen without words, stand beside the rockstars without expectation, and offer comfort that asks for nothing in return. With Faye's gentle guidance, these creatures remind everyone of something powerful—that they will never be conflicted by judgement, only by quiet loyalty and acceptance. And there was Cody, a hero whose camaraderie and spirit lifted those around him. Though he has journeyed on to another galaxy, his friendship and the strength he brought to the team will never be forgotten.

Finally, there is Katherine—the advocate, the champion, the leader of the heroes. But Katherine's power is different. Her strength does not work alone. It only works because of the combined powers of every superhero beside her—and the determination of the rockstars they stand for. Together, they are a force to be reckoned with. No one will stand in the way of these rockstars standing tall and performing their concert for the world.

That place is Gamekeepers Cottage.

Here, we stand together.

Here, we achieve what others believe is impossible.

Here, we build lives.

We rewrite stories.

We practice and we perform.

We learn and we grow.

And when the lights go up and the music begins, the world will finally see what we have always known: Every one of our children is a superstar. 🤷‍♀️ 🤷‍♀️ 💫
